

DANIEL DUMITRAN, The problem of confessional diversity and religious tolerance in Transylvania during Emperor Joseph II. Highlights from the end of the project

Abstract: This paper presents the directions of investigation of the research project entitled Etatism and religious diversity in a multicultural area. The policy of religious tolerance in Transylvania, during the reign of Joseph II.

Keywords: confessional identity, community, religious tolerance, Transylvania, Joseph II.